Excerpt: . . . 15 ings with Community program and IG personnel in order to follow up on the status of IG recommendations. Examples include em-ployee grievances, management of operational activities, con-tracting procedures, effective use of resources on new technology, covert action programs, and financial management practices. During the 108th Congress, the Committee continued its work to ensure the effectiveness and independence of the administrative In-spectors General at the National Reconnaissance Office (NRO), the National Security Agency (NSA), the National Geospatial-Intel-ligence Agency (NGA), and the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA). The Committee reinforced the importance of the IG function through its regular interaction with the agency directors, the IGs, and their staffs. In response to language in the Committees Intel-ligence Authorization Bills, the administrative IGs also submitted annual reports to the Committee detailing their requests for fiscal and personnel resources, and the plan for their use. These reports included the programs and activities of their agency scheduled for review during the fiscal year, comments on the offices ability to hire and retain qualified personnel, any concerns relating to the independence and effectiveness of the IGs office, and an overall as-sessment of the agencys response to the IGs recommendations during the previous year. These annual reports served as a basis for Committee oversight throughout the year. 4. IC compliance with Federal financial accounting standards The Committee continued to closely monitor the ICs financial management practices during the 108th Congress. During the pre-vious Congress, in the report accompanying S. 1428 (S....
