The Tao of Poetry

By Sam G. Sauls

Trafford Publishing, Canada, 2005. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 213 x 140 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Sam G, Sauls, Jr. is a 77-year-old retired graphics designer who has studied about science and religions over his lifetime, and written poems that were seeking common ground both spiritual and more rational seekers could believe in. He realized monotheism and modern science were on widely divergent paths and not reconcilable. After attending a theosophical conference conducted by a quantum physicist he learned that Fritjof Capra's book, The Tao of Physics, said that Eastern mystics were talking like quantum physicists 2500 years ago! This inspired Sauls to name his book The Tao of Poetry in Capra's honor. It was the Tao symbol with its yin and yang unions of opposites in total Oneness that fit the hidden realities and mysteries that he sought to express, for in 1985 he had an epiphany that proclaimed All is one, All is well and that enlightened statement appears frequently in his poems. Humor, sarcasm, mystical insights and Ancient Wisdom are used to proclaim the truths that he feels come from his higher Self. He includes a few poems placed...
