Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Robotics Research Technical Report We consider the problem of computing the shortest path between two points in two or three-dimensional space bounded by polyhedral surfaces. In the 2-D case the problem is easily solved in time $O(n \log n)$. In the general 3-D case the problem is quite hard to solve, and is not even discrete; we present a doubly exponential procedure for solving the discrete subproblem of determining the sequence of boundary edges through which the shortest path passes. Finally we consider a favorable special case of the 3-D shortest path problem, namely that of finding the shortest path between two points along the surface of a convex polyhedron, and solve it in time $O(n \log n)$. The problem of finding the shortest path between two points in Euclidean space bounded by a finite collection of polyhedral obstacles is a special case of the more general problem of planning optimal collision-free paths for a given robot system (here we treat the robot as a single moving point). In two dimensional space the problem is easy...
